Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

St. Claude de la Colomiere

St. Claude was St. Margaret Mary Alacouque's spiritual director. Both of them, along with St. John Eudes, were responsible for spreading the devotion of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. While talking to a dying nun he said "that if I were as near rendering my account to God as you seem to be, it would be precisely the number and gravity of my sins that would serve to quicken my trust. Instead of being cast down by the realization of one's failures, to have a strong and boundless conviction of the Creator's goodness—that is a trust worthy of God. The trust that gives the Lord the most honor is that of an errant sinner who is so convinced of God's boundless mercy that all his sins seem like a speck in comparison with that mercy." As we approach Lent this year, let us ask the Lord to have mercy on us and teach us to love and run to Him in all circumstances.

~ Fr. Jon
